

USPSTF App: Prevention TaskForce

- The U.S. Preventive Services Task Force (Task Force) has an app called Prevention TaskForce.
- This app helps healthcare professionals identify which screening, counseling, and preventive medication services are right for their patients.
- It includes all current Task Force recommendations and can be searched by specific patient characteristics, such as age, sex/gender, and selected behavioral risk factors.
- The app is available for download on desktops and mobile devices.
- For more information, visit www.uspreventiveservicestaskforce.org/apps.
